So, WashAndGo can clean the browser passwords and form values, metadata of your Office files, as well as mail folders (such as Spam). Once WashAndGo performs an automatic scan task, you can view the type of junk files that it found (e.g. *.old, *.tmp, log files, MRU, Windows thumbnail cache and search), use a search function and remove from the list the files that you want to keep. Furthermore, you can delete all security backups and protocols, create an exclusion list, select the item types that you want to clean and choose the deleting method (e.g. very slow and very safe, the normal Windows function). On top of that, you can configure the backup behavior (e.g. maximum file size), enable WashAndGo to ignore open web browsers and running email clients, create a file format for cleaning protocols, use a file shredder, uninstall programs from your computer, analyze the disk usage, and more. The program runs on a very high amount of system resources, includes a complete help file with snapshots, can take a while to finish a scan and clean job and didn't freeze, crash or pop up errors during our tests. Its response time is not extraordinary but we strongly recommend WashAndGo to all users. WashAndGo Download 3.
